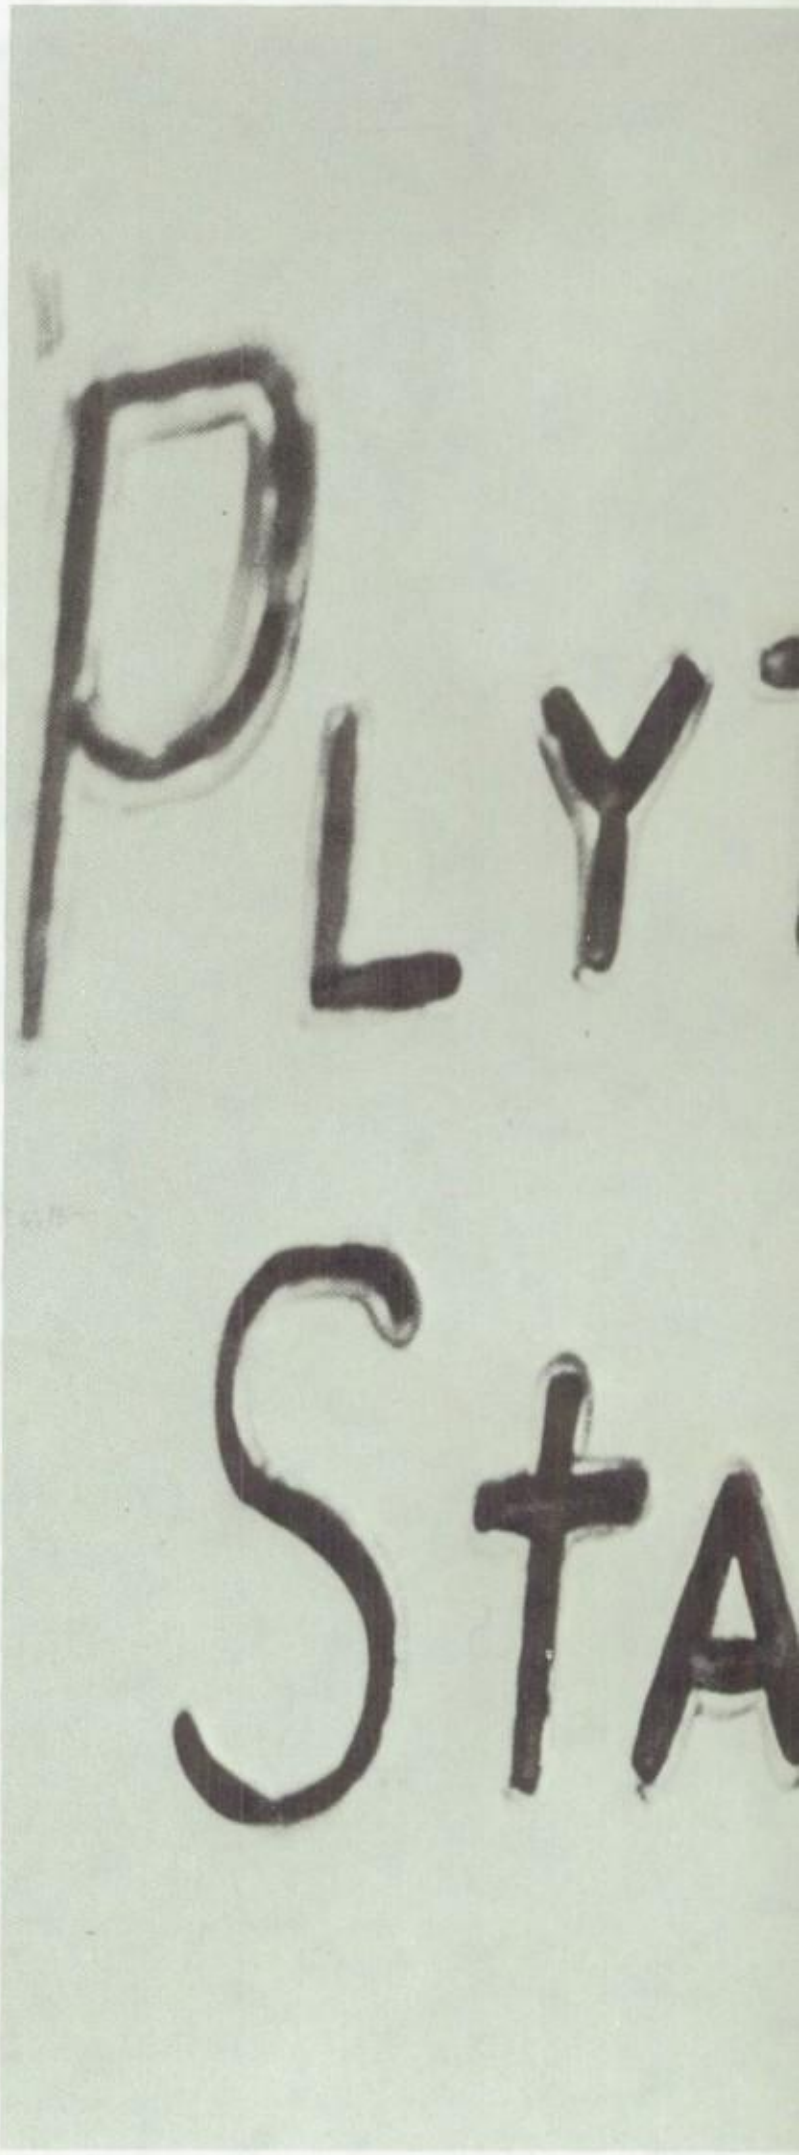
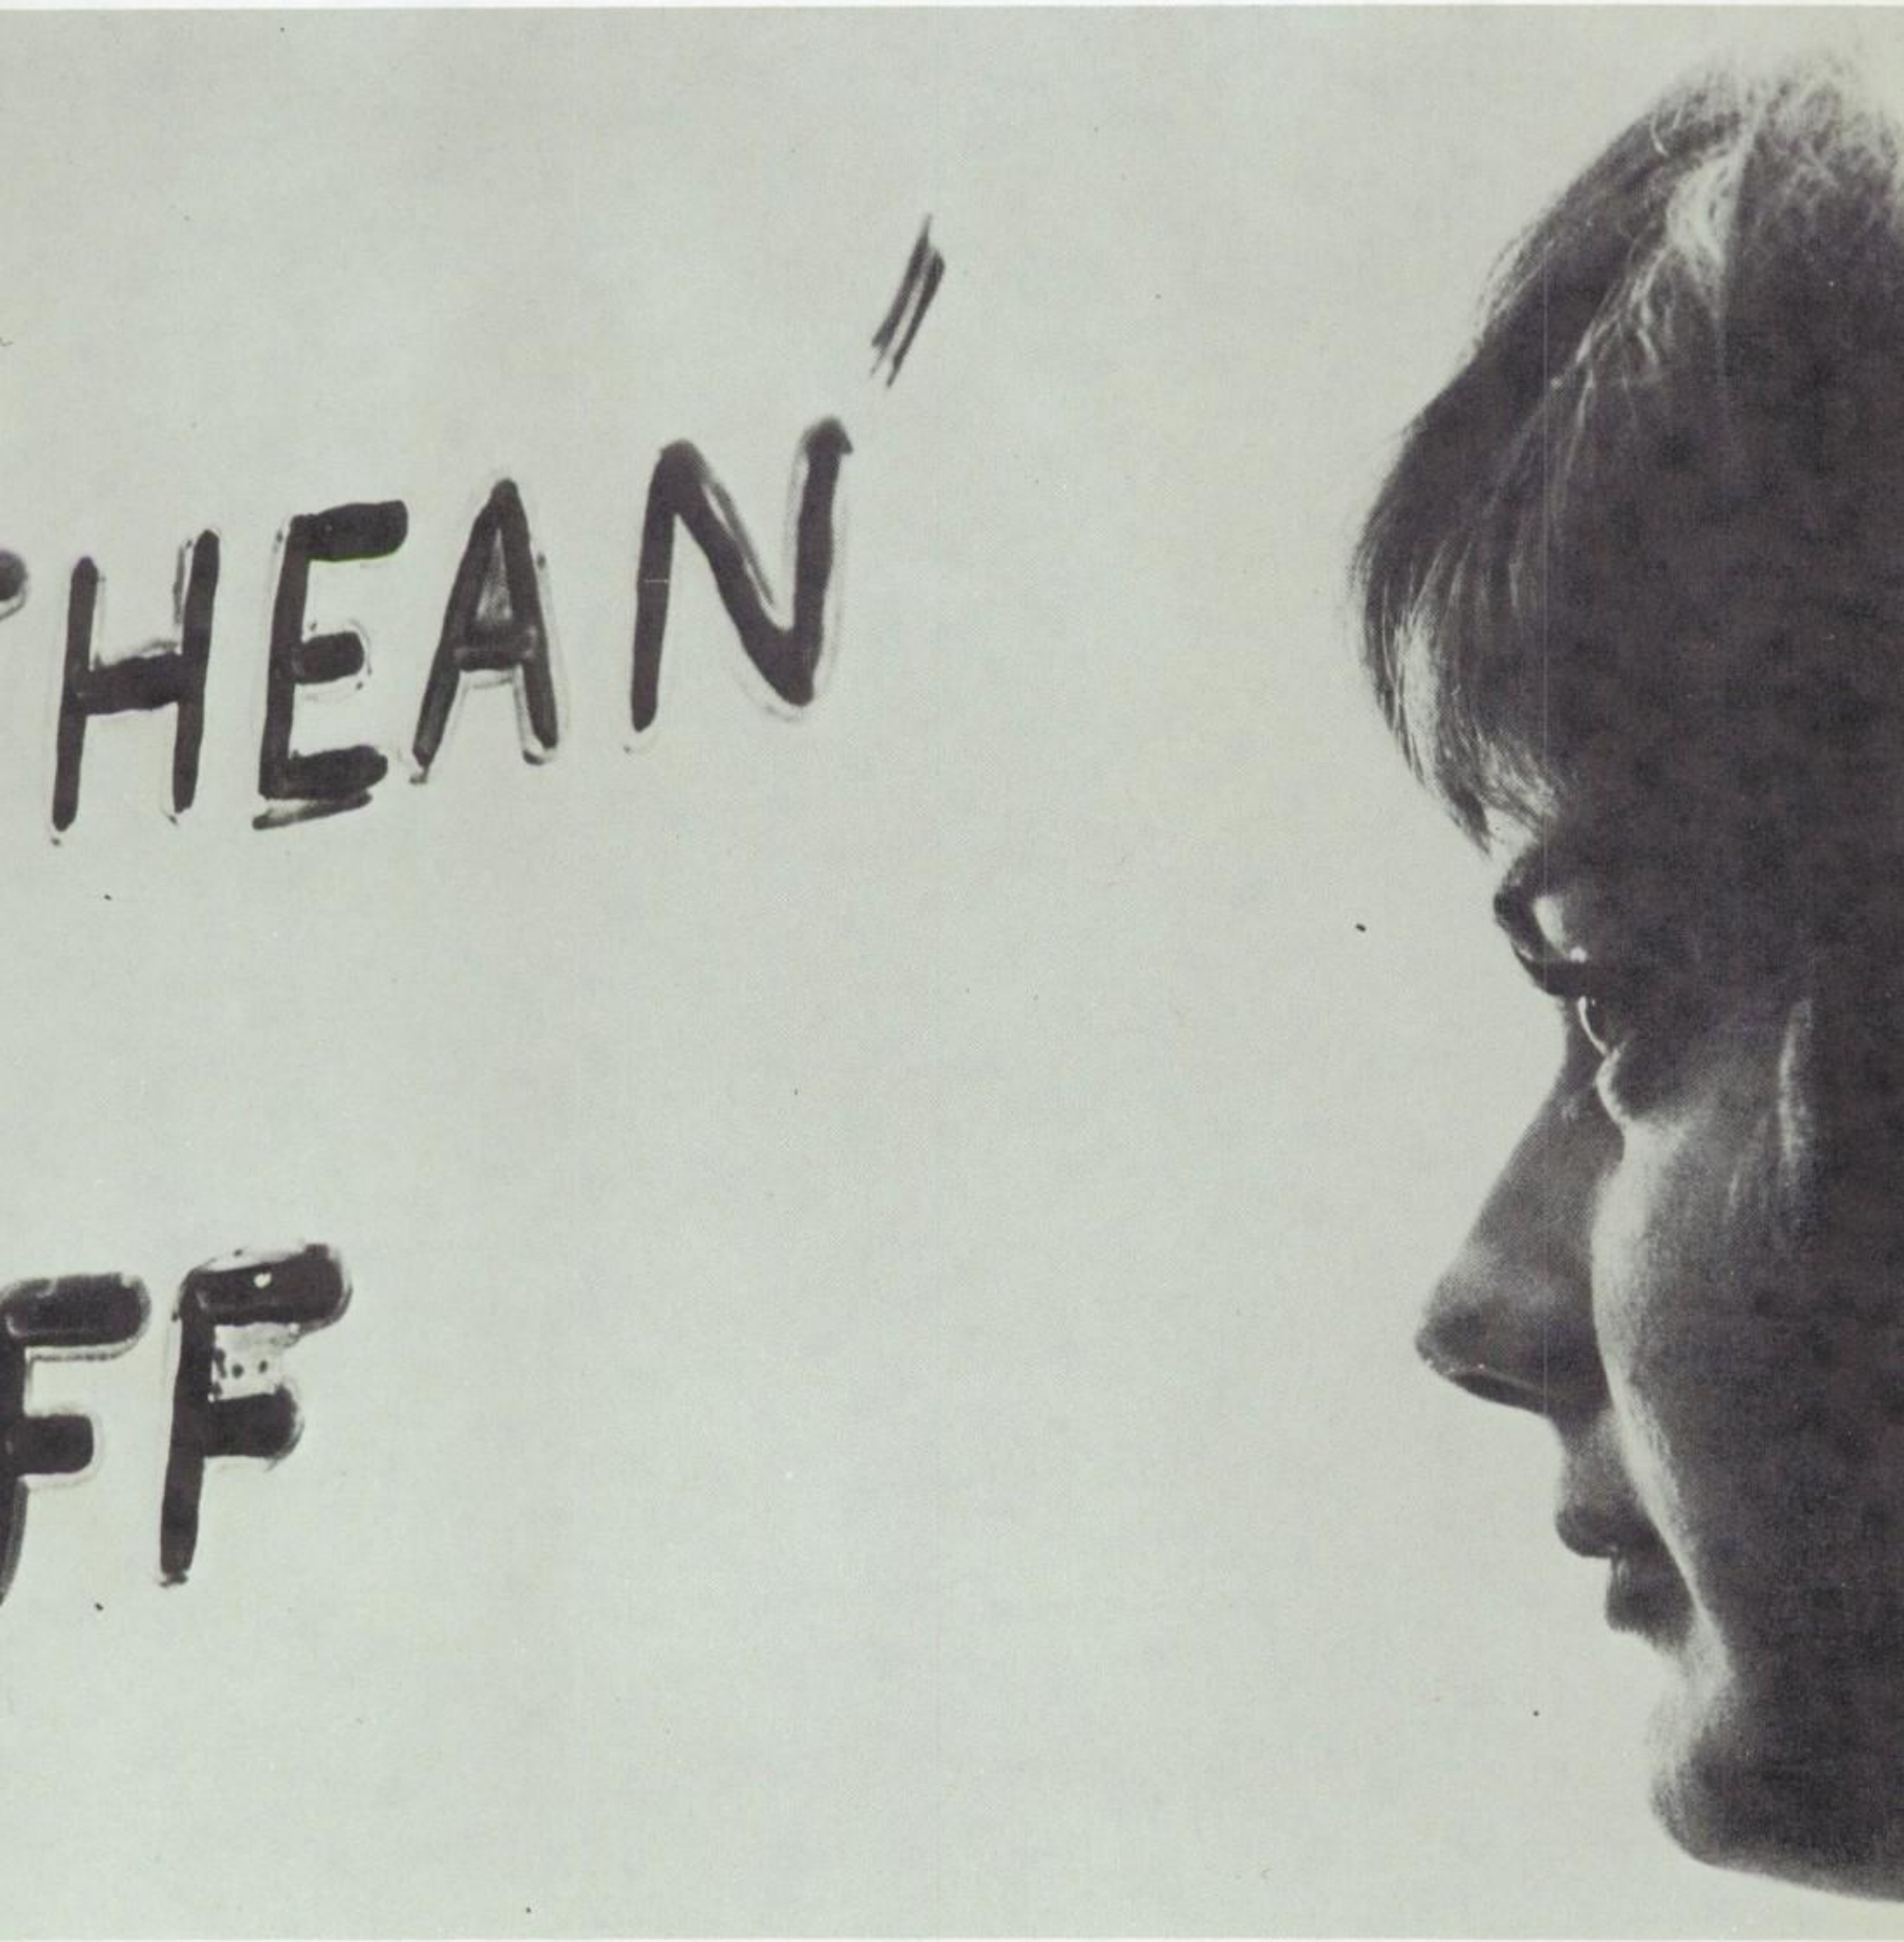
As a Senior this year, Dick Pankow reflects on his four years as a student of Plymouth High.

Every year the major events of the school seem to always be the same; the J-Hop, the Prom, League Championships, etc. This year however, instead of sentimental remembrances, the yearbook has gone into the more human side of school life--so the theme is "Moods and Faces."

With Irving Lloyd (a really good photographer!) the staff has conducted sort of a wandering "candid camera," catching people (and that includes teachers) as they really are--not posed with typical sickeningly mug-shot-type smiles on their faces.

As you thumb your way through the '62 Plythean, you will no doubt see yourself or your friends--caught unaware--and natural. This is you!! This is your Book!!





Looking ahead to the future editions of the PLYTHEAN is this years' Editor-in-Chief, Sue Larkin.

Who could be the person on the other end of the line that Sue Ward is so fascinated by?

Larry Moore stares in bewilderment at the make-up test that has been cooked up for him.

Administration

Mr. Russell Isbister serves Plymouth in the capicity of Superintendent of schools.

Mr. Isbister's secretary, Mrs. Garnet Stickney, types a memo to Board members.

Esther Hulsing, Mr. Wesley Kaiser, Fischer, the Plymouth Board of Edu- - ity.

Mr. Blunk, Administrative Assistant, pauses from his busy schedule.

Mrs. Geraldine Hopkins, Bookkeeper, and her assistant, Alberta Hart, check expenditures and receipts for the school year.

Joyce Rafe keeps busy following Mr. Blunk's schedule.

The Faculty

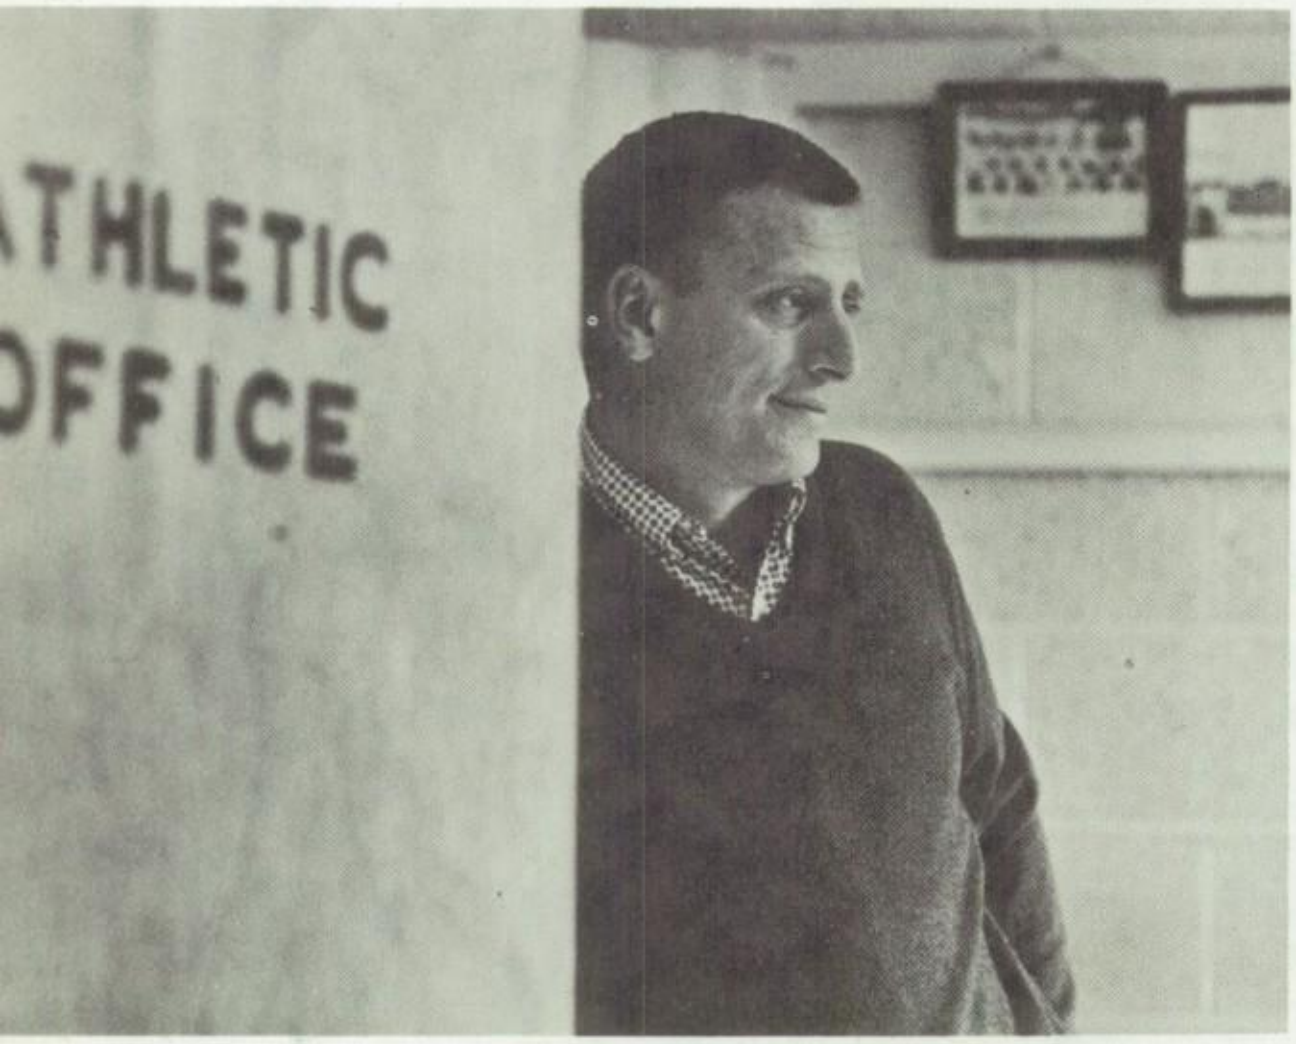
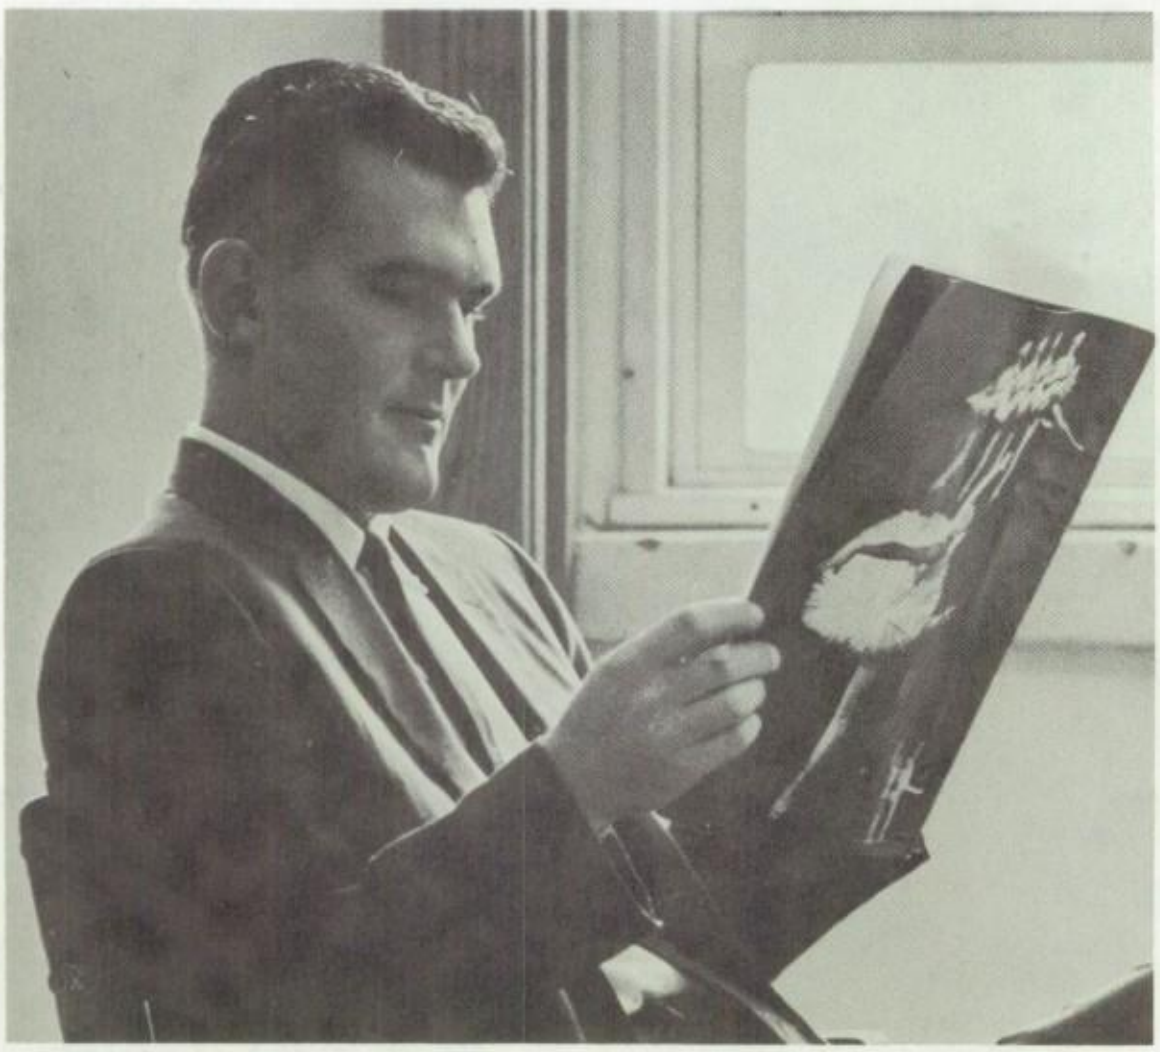
As principal of Plymouth High School, Mr. Carvel Bentley has a full schedule during the school day.

Mr. Keith Baughman, welding teacher, pauses from an instructional period.

Mr. John Sandman pensively stares into space.

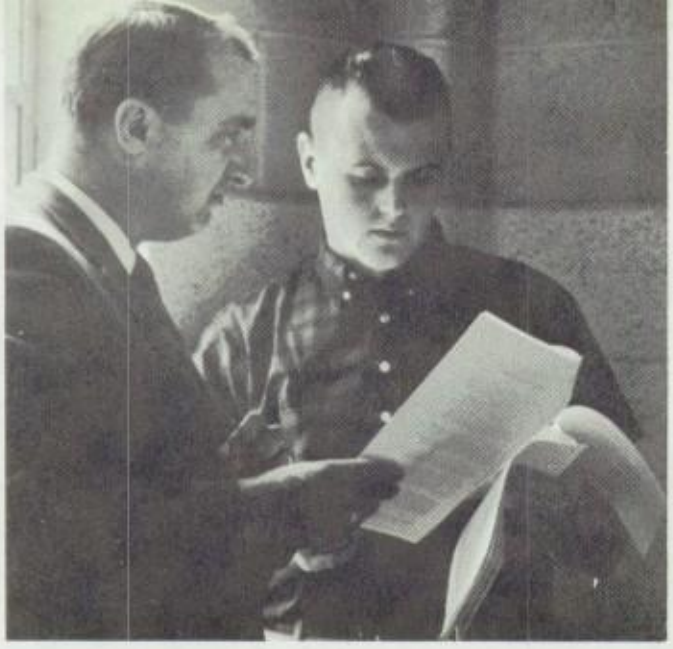


Mr. Phil Johnson is taking time out from a busy day to pursue the finer things of life.



Mr. Lawrence Ordowski explains an English rule to Freshman Bob Beck.

Mr. Garrit Kramer in his last year as a history teacher at PHS, reflects on a long career which is about to end.



Mr. Gustave Gorguze, assistant principal, discusses the school agenda with Tom Hoffman, senior.

Senior Kirk Rowland seeks guidance from his counselor Mr. Mike Hoben as to future careers.

Mr. William Campbell, shop instructor, peers over a student's shoulder to check his progress.

The Seniors

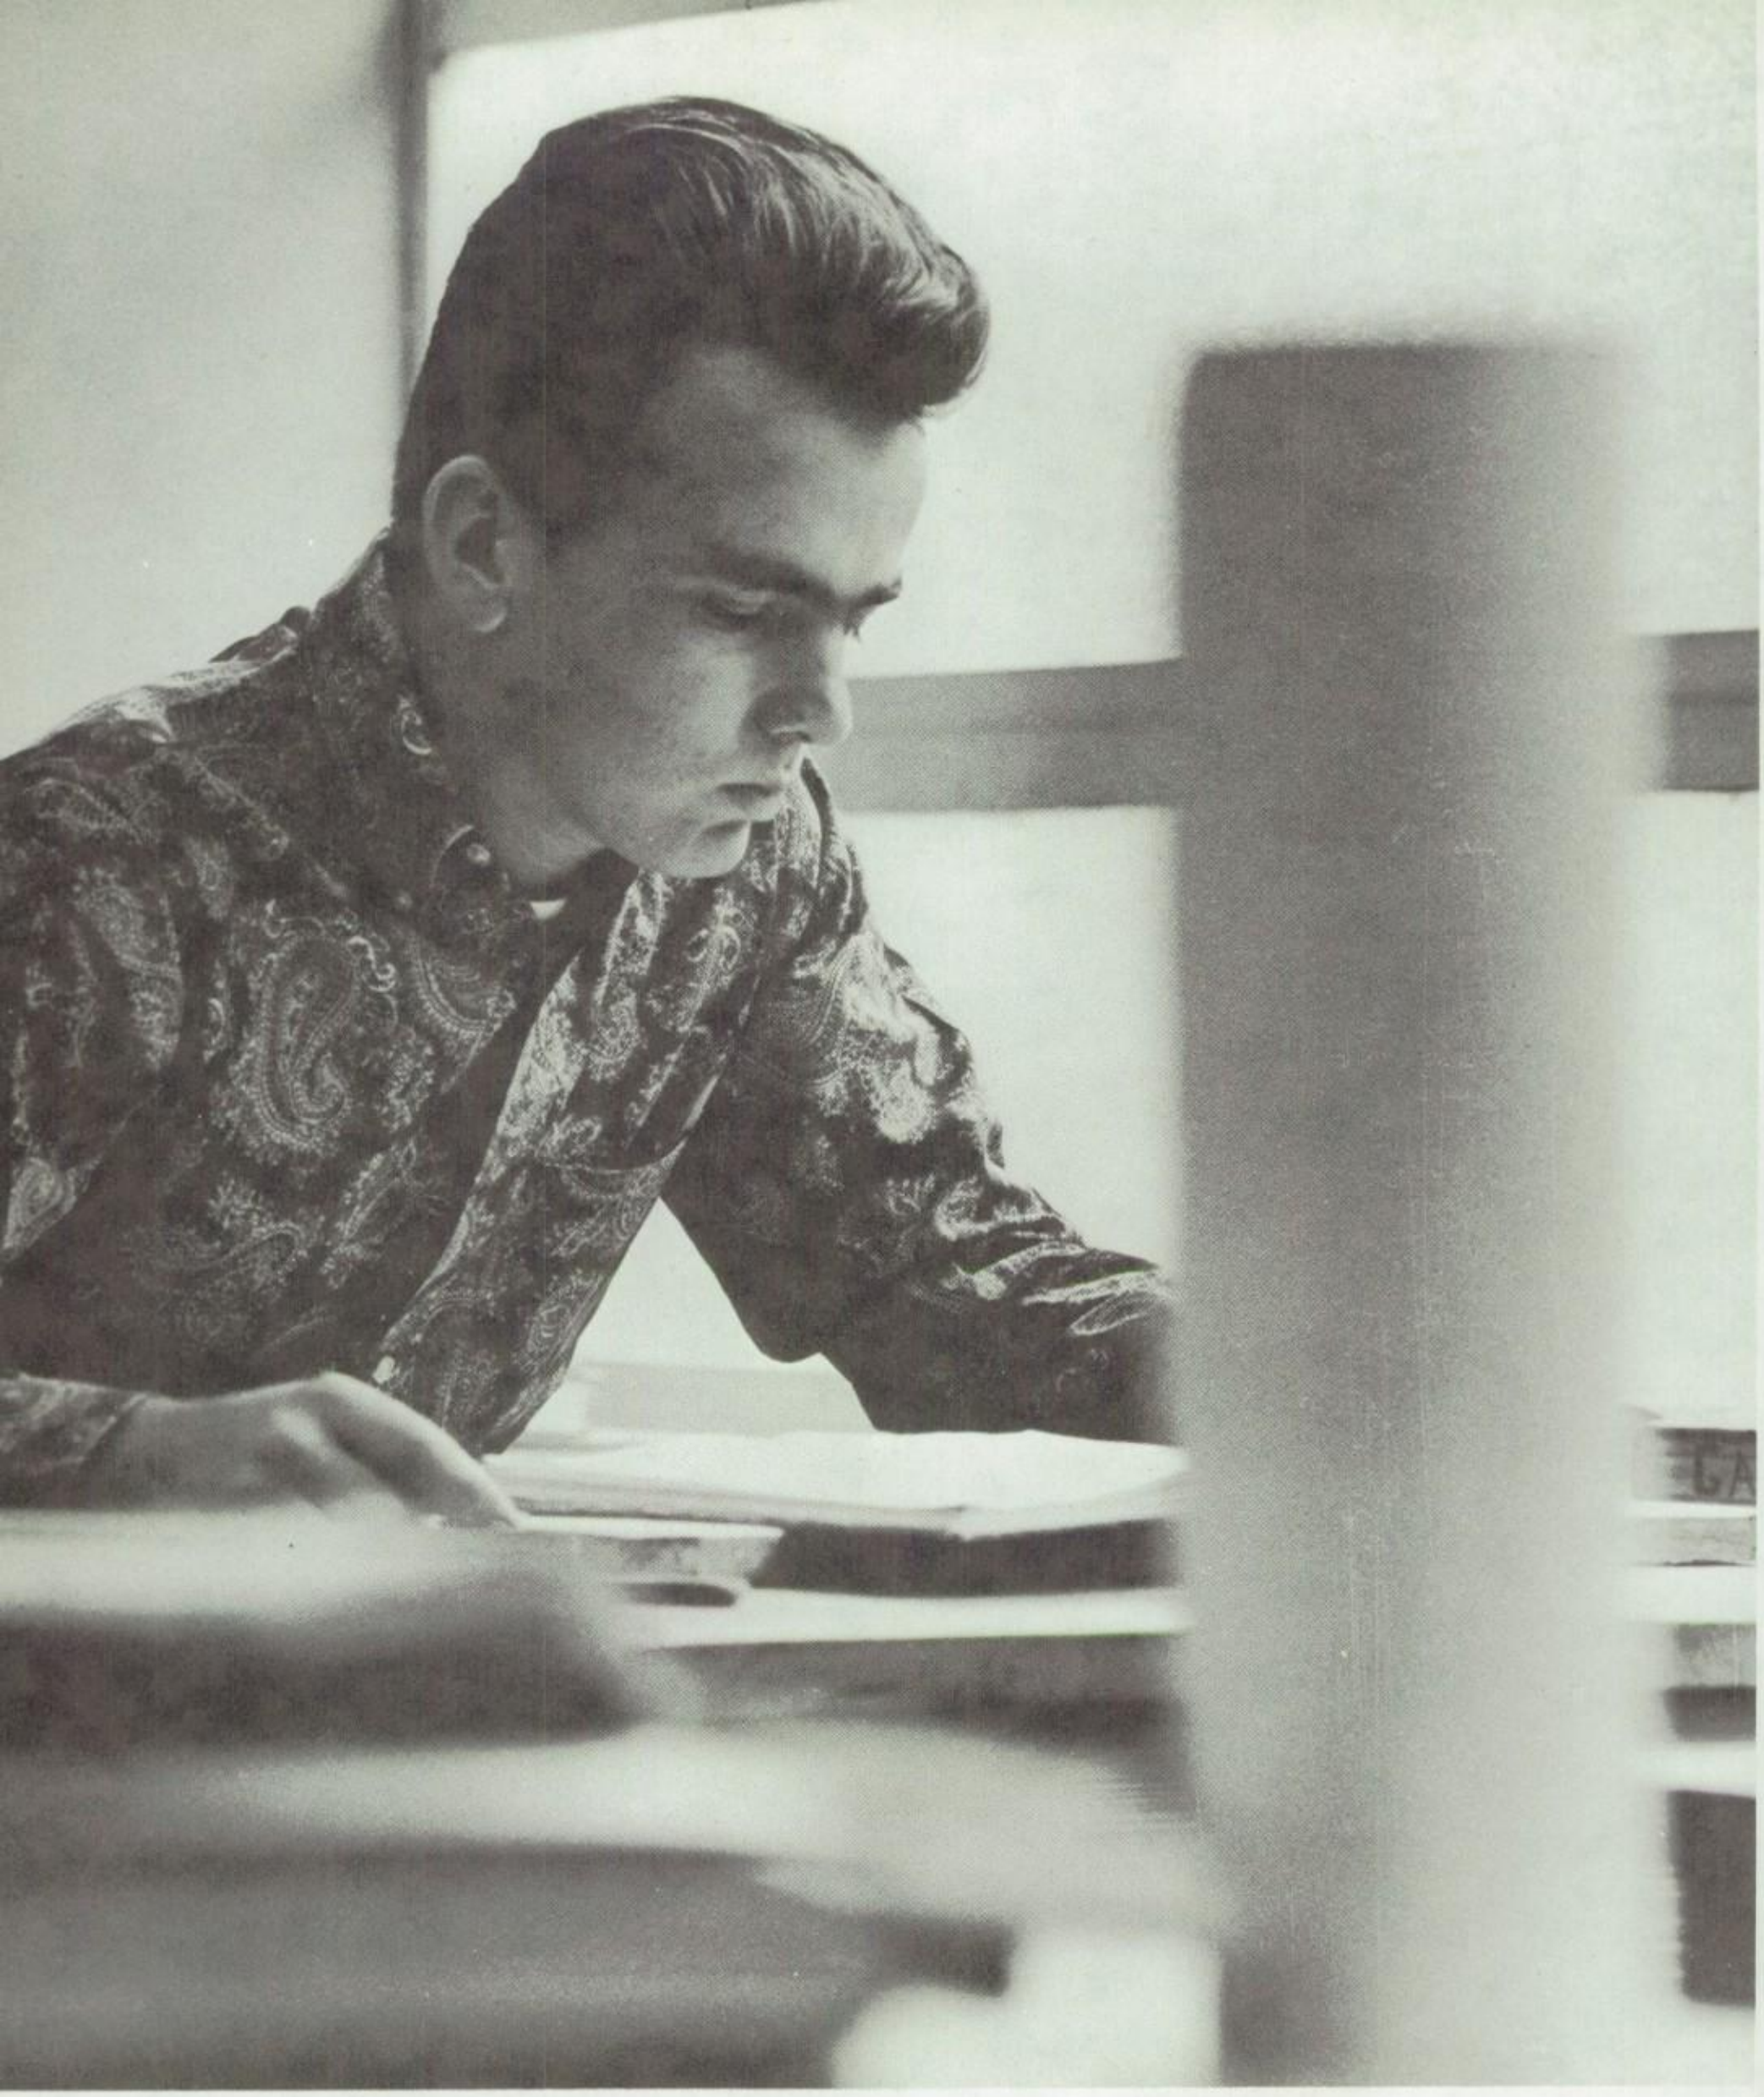
Whether or not the new school schedule put into effect this year is beneficial seems to be the topic of conversation for these students.

Doug Eder plans the strategy of a presentation with Larry Carver, Dave Raaflaub, Sandra Newton, Ken Fischer, and Hollis Haynes during International Relations, an accelerated government and world study class.

Seniors Janet Graham and Mike Kenyon discuss the school day which they have just completed.

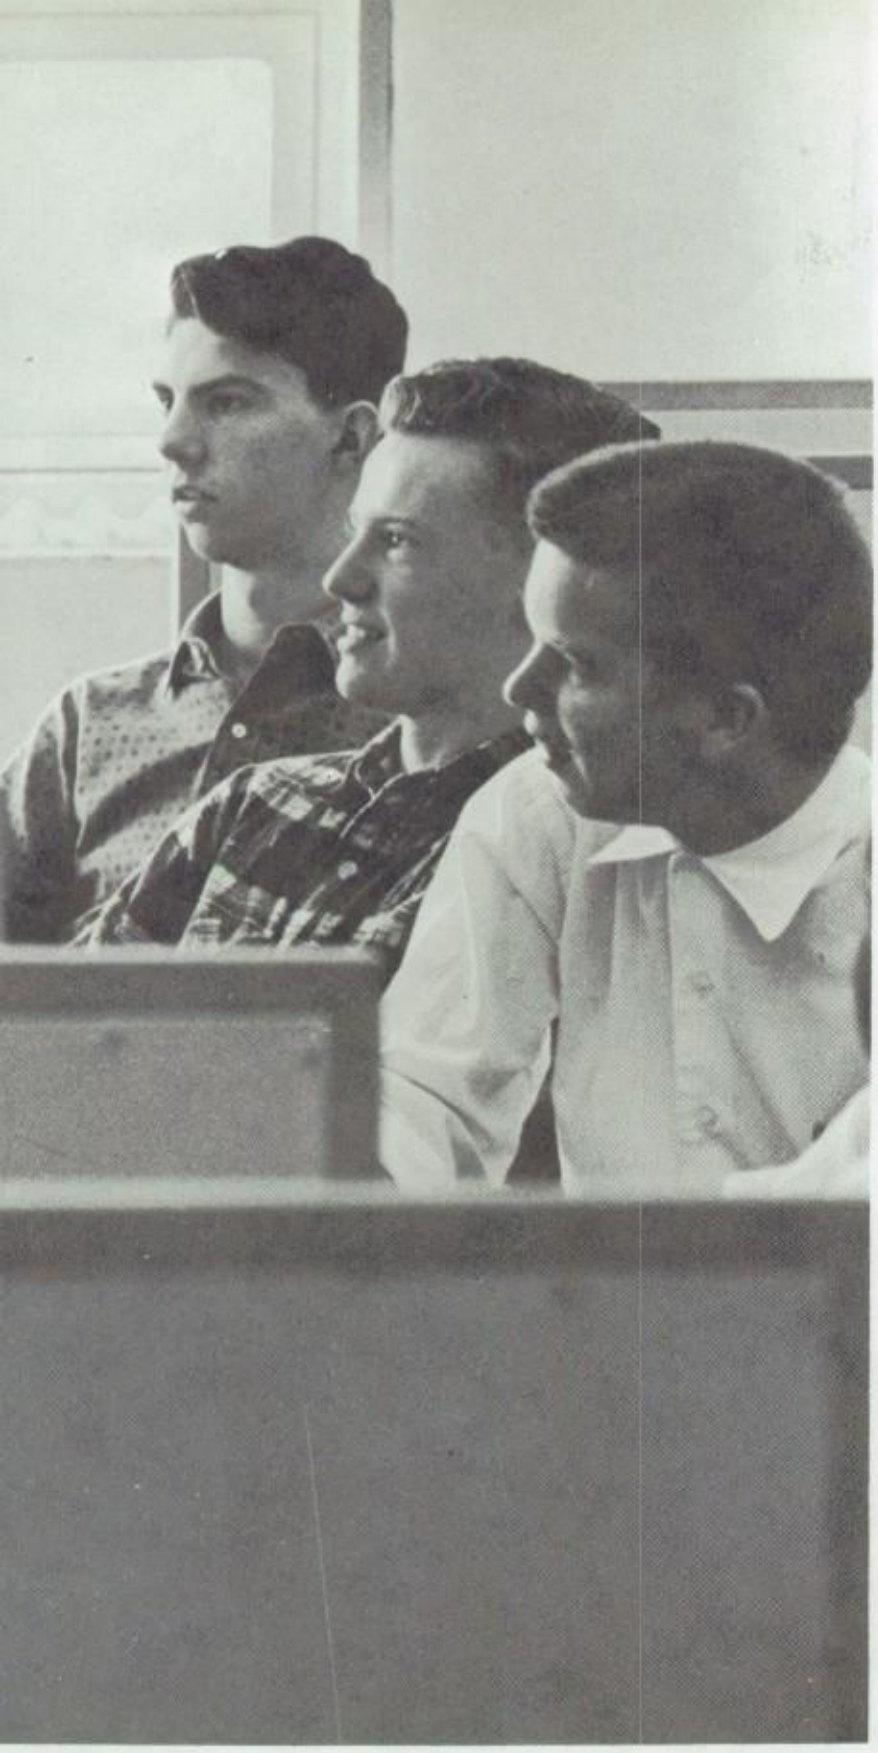
Seniors Lynda Vanderhoef and John Contario are making excellent use of their study time.

Norbert Meyer, exchange student from France and now returned to his homeland, tells International Relations pupils Lynn VanDyke, Clare Wilson, Jim Kropf and Dave Fey about his native Montmartre.



Ron Collins tentatively examines a drawing for sketch class.

Special Chemistry, which is geared to the exceptional student, receives the avid attention of Ken Fischer while Al Larson, Bob Winterhalter and Tony Hunt seem indifferent at the moment.



Discussing the French recording they will soon hear in the language lab are Jim Hatcher, Gregg Packard and Steve Bullington.

With strict orders of "No girls allowed!" some senior boys set out to make the Class of '62's Homecoming float the best ever. The result, as all the girls readily admitted, was beautiful as well as unique. Shown adding the finishing touches to their work are: Tom Gillham, Bob Loesch, Larry Carver, Ron Tripp, Dan Tormohlen, Doug Keen, John Stone, Graham Warner, Jim Cooper, Dick West, and Jim Bennett.

At the mixer Gay Shirey is showing female superiority by dethroning Phil Bender from the shoulders of Danny Stremick.

Jim Bassett picked up a hitchhiker as he headed for the foamy blue during the mixer.

a close, we graduated with mixed emotions.

Harold Fischer found an excellent vantage point from which to take Homecoming pictures--Barry Corwin's car, as Phil Bender prepares to get in the picture.

The Underclassmen

Marcile Curtis, enrolled in one of the many art classes offered, is putting the final touches on a pair of cuff links she has made herself.

Frosh Jeff Hoffman, Kathy Hodge, and Carol Hinote are contemplating their English lesson or is it world problems!

The end of another day in the lives of these students has come again.

Kathy Hodge and Sue Niemi check specimans which they collected for biology class.

These shop students industriously work on their next class project.

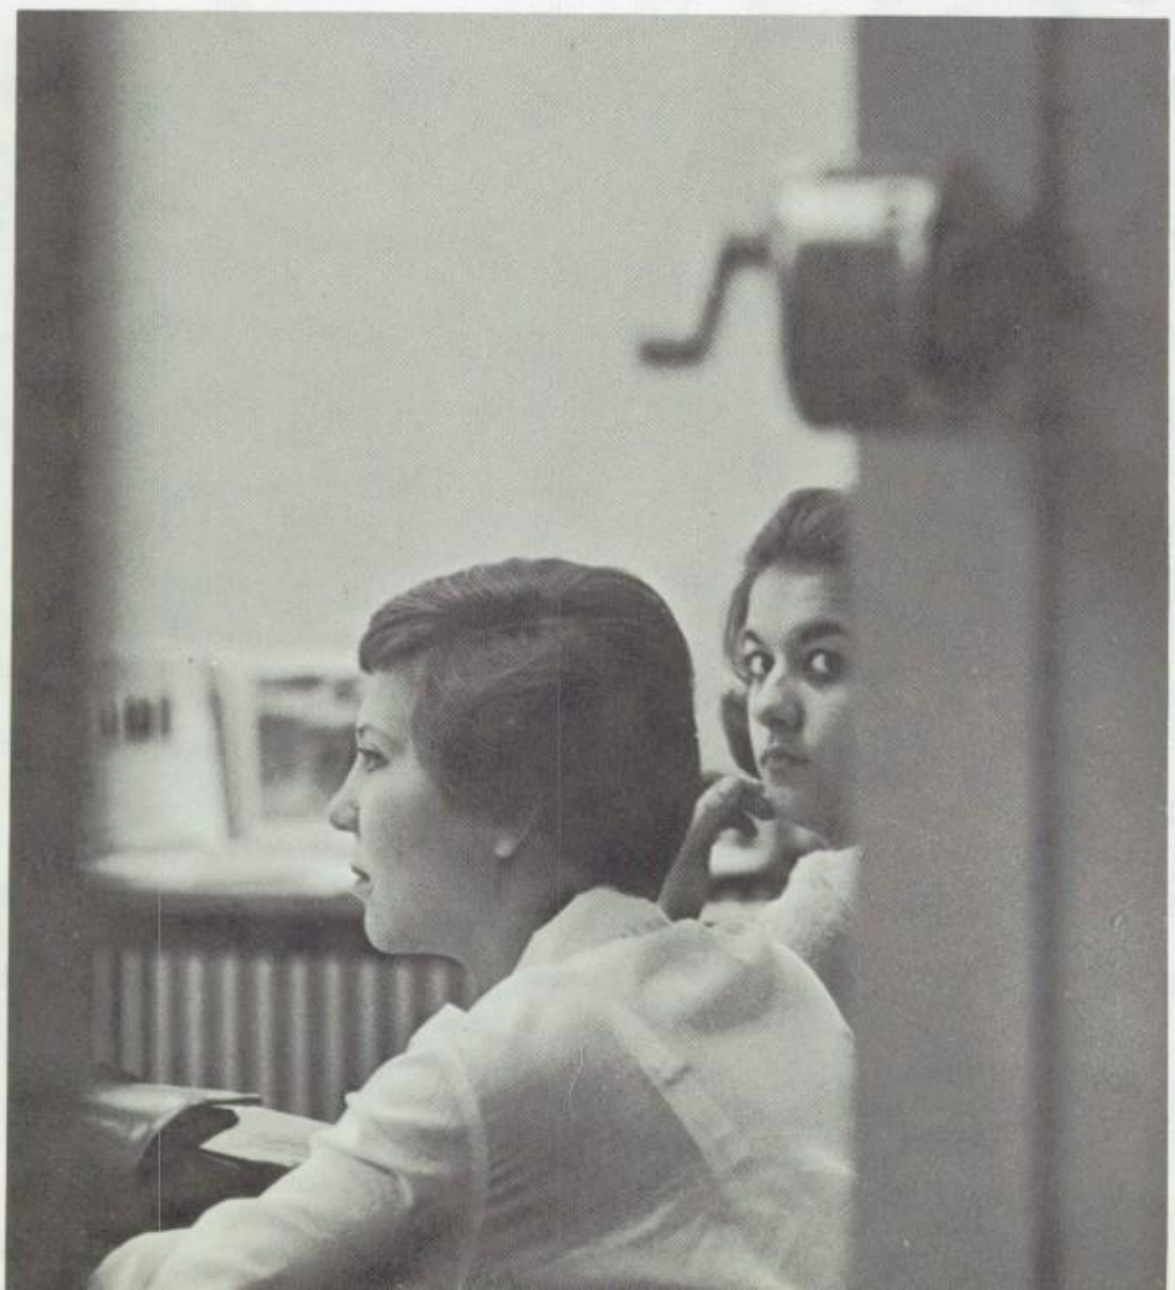
Hustling and bustling are prevalent as students hurry to their next class during the allotted four minutes.

Bob Beck eagerly raises his hand to answer a question posed by his teacher.



Bonnie Bowsman lets nothing distract her attention for even a moment, but then there is Diane Mackie....

Although at first it was hard to recruit helpers, the Juniors show up in abundance the night before the J-Hop.

Bruce Mirto escorts his date Ruthann Lidgard and willingly helps out Buzz Smith's date, Luan Penny, while Buzz parks the car.

The receiving line is just beginning and poor Art Gulick is tired before the night begins. What is his date, Beth Wideman, going to think? Another Student Council member, Virginia Fetner and her date, Craig Stevens, greet Linda Taylor and Mike Krizman.

The highlight of the evening for which everyone waits is the Grand March.

Student Council

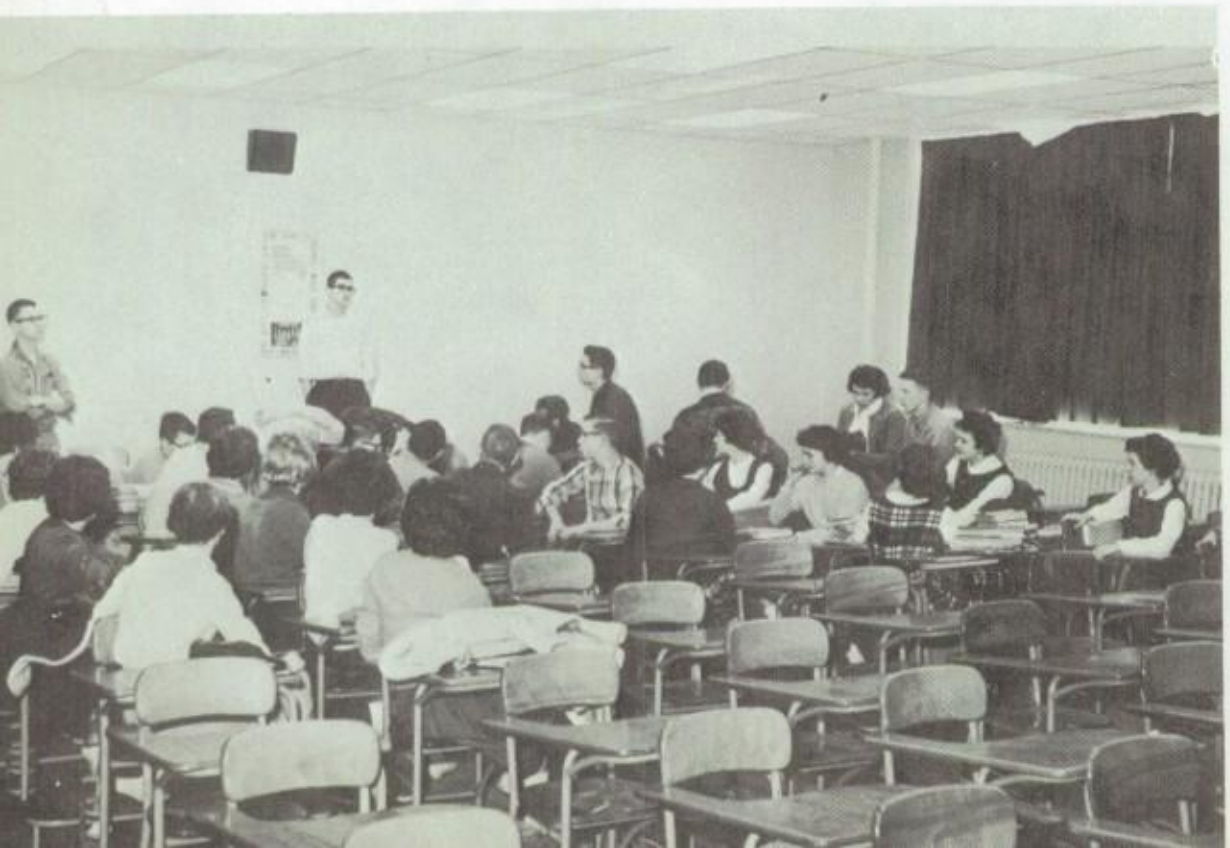
ROW I: Fetner, V.; Van Antwerp, J.; Bender, M.; Utter, B.; ROW II: Graham, J.; Argo, M.; Kropf, J.; Mr. Gorguze; Scott, C.; Smith, B.; Jensen, G.; ROW III: Raven, C.; Campbell, J.; Otwell, C.; Blood, C.; Vallier, J.; Hill, B.; Gulick, A.; Otwell, H.; Kippola, G.; Wall, D.



For an up-to-date account on the projects going on around school, the Student Council is the best source. As the governing body of the high school, this year's Council has undertaken many extensive and time-consuming projects.

At the left is Mayor Jim Kropf presiding over one of the meetings which were held twice weekly in an attempt at revising the 1961 constitution which was voted down by the student body in the last elections. Many hours of hard work had been put into this convention in the hope that a constitution could be written which would satisfy the whole student body.

Co - Op

Mr. Urey Arnold, a co-ordinator in the co-op program, has ample reason to be proud of the job placement program instituted at PHS. The program enables students to attend school in the morning, and hold down jobs in the afternoon.

Kay McQueen serves Mrs. Virginia Fehlig a soda at the drug store where Kay is a clerk.

Bill Hinote works in his father's welding shop.

Maybe the running of a greenhouse will be the future for George Parsons.

Clubs

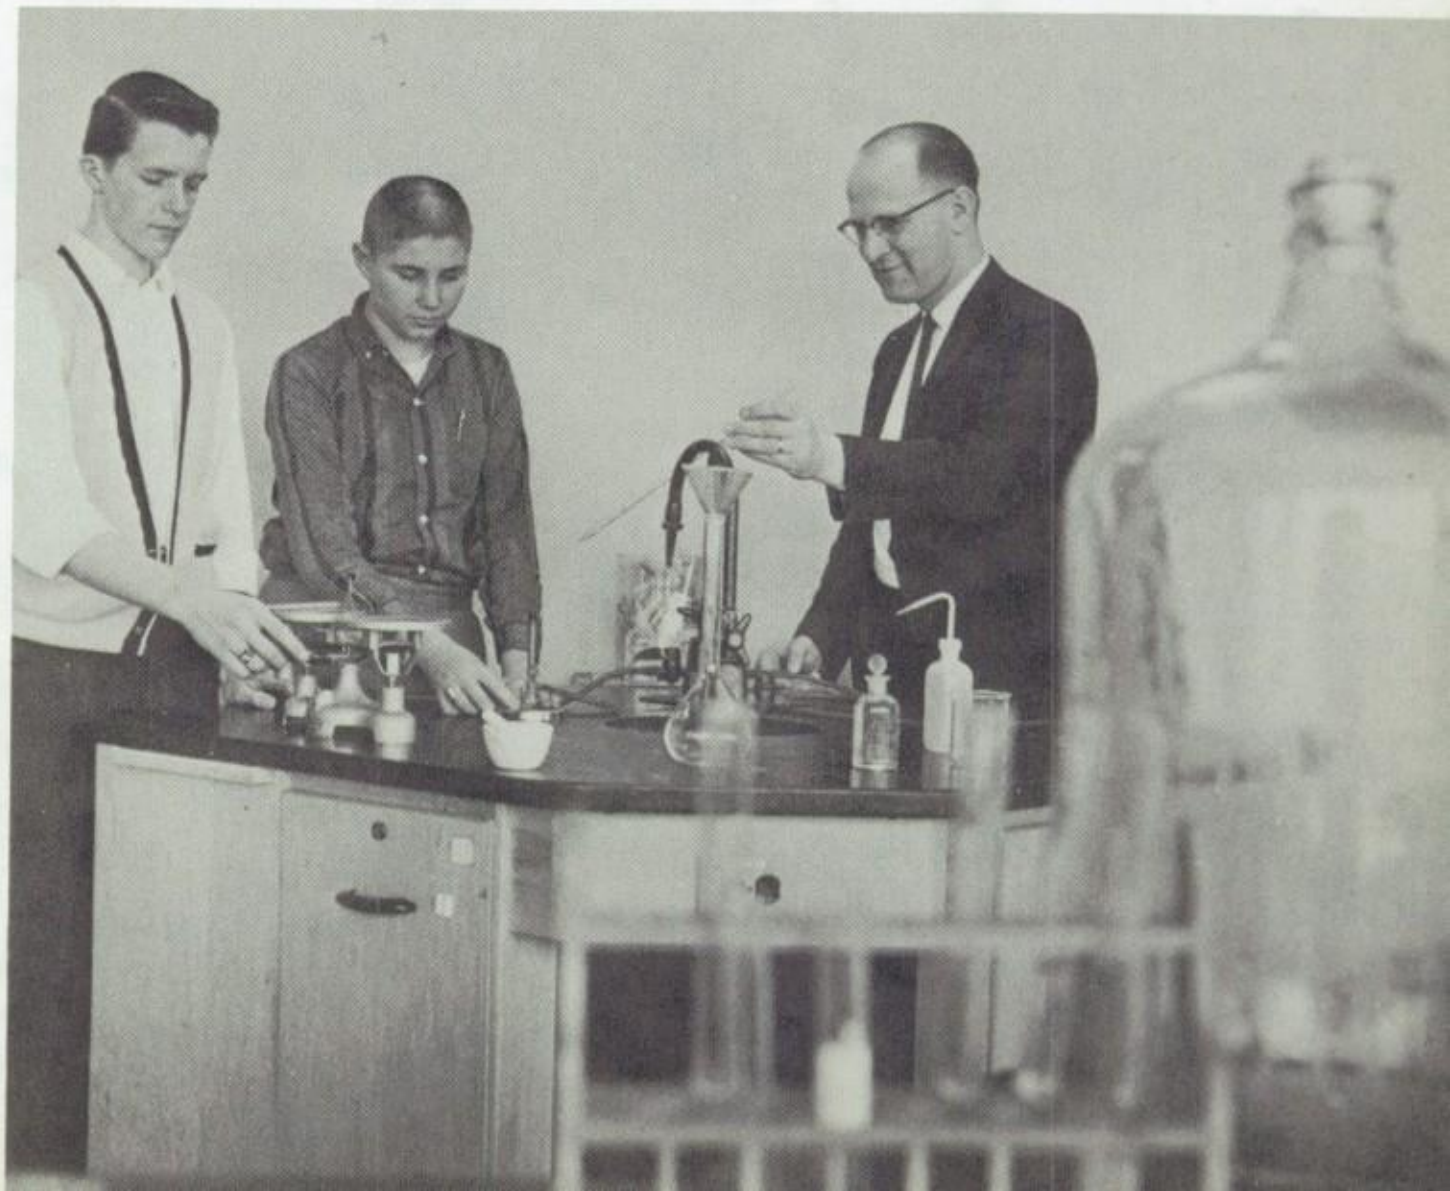
Sitting around? NOT ON YOUR LIFE! Here the Annual Staff is preparing for the publication of the PLYTHEAN.

Pep Club members Janet Van Antwerp, Janet Fair and Lynn Van Dyke discuss future plans for "Rocky" and other Pep Club members.

Chris Strasen and Anna Zoet, of the Water Waves, assist members of the Ripples Club.

Dave Manzel and Dave Sutherland test their equipment at the Radio Shack.



Mr. Don Helm, adviser to the Science Club, assists Hilliard DiVeto and Byron Brown with an experiment.

The members of the newly formed Ripples Club--derived from the Water Waves--cluster around the edge of the pool to await helpful criticism from their adviser, Mrs. Jane Watts.

Chuck Hampton, an avid member of the Chess Club, contemplates a future move.

The peppy cheerleading squads meet to decide new clothing ideas for their uniforms.

Although the season of winter sports is over, Pep Club members hold a confab to plan new ideas for next years' club members.

PLYTHEAN STAFF

Donna Hoffman and Joan McCullough carefully recheck subscription lists.

Mike Kenyon looks amazed and Buzz Elliott amused when told by Mr. "O." the date of the next deadline.

Annual Staff

Jim Eder, Vicki Gardner, and Mary Littrell search endlessly for new ideas.

Linda Taylor's art ability is utilized as she cuts out letters for the PLYTHEAN.

Karen Libbing--alone after school, typing for the Annual.

Pilgrim Prints

Future Teachers of America

ROW I: Van Dyke, L.; Smith, J,; Anderson, B.; Mr. Pelton; Shirey, G.; Barber, D.; ROW II: Hoffman, D.; Yount, J.; Haynes, H.; Holt, K.; Alberts, J.; ROW III: Wilt, L.; Park, M.; Gignac, J.; Heidt, S.; Rathburn, M.; Burgett, J.; White, S.; Fielden, S.; Crouch, J.; McLaren, C.; Sanford, P.

Acquainting the members with all types of education, elementary, secondary, and special, the Future Teachers of America attempt to further an interest in teaching as a profession. With this in mind the girls visited several Michigan colleges including Michigan State, the University of Michigan, Eastern Michigan, and Albion. The club also sent representatives to the Special Education Career Day at the University of Michigan Hospital.

Introducing a cadet teaching program this year, the members will observe an elementary school teacher and later assist the teacher in the classroom. This program will give the future teacher an opportunity to discover her particular interests in the teaching field. At the left, president Hollis Haynes and other members of the club discuss the plans for selling consessions at the Redford Union basketball game on February 23.

Future Nurses of America

Due to the hard work of Georgina Daubresse and many of the Thespians, the play "You Can't Take It With You" was a tremendous success. Each performance drew many people including students, parents, and friends. Here Georgina works on the scenery which is an important part of any play. Many students worked on other committees, such as lighting, make up, costumes, and others which are so necessary for production of such a high-caliber play.

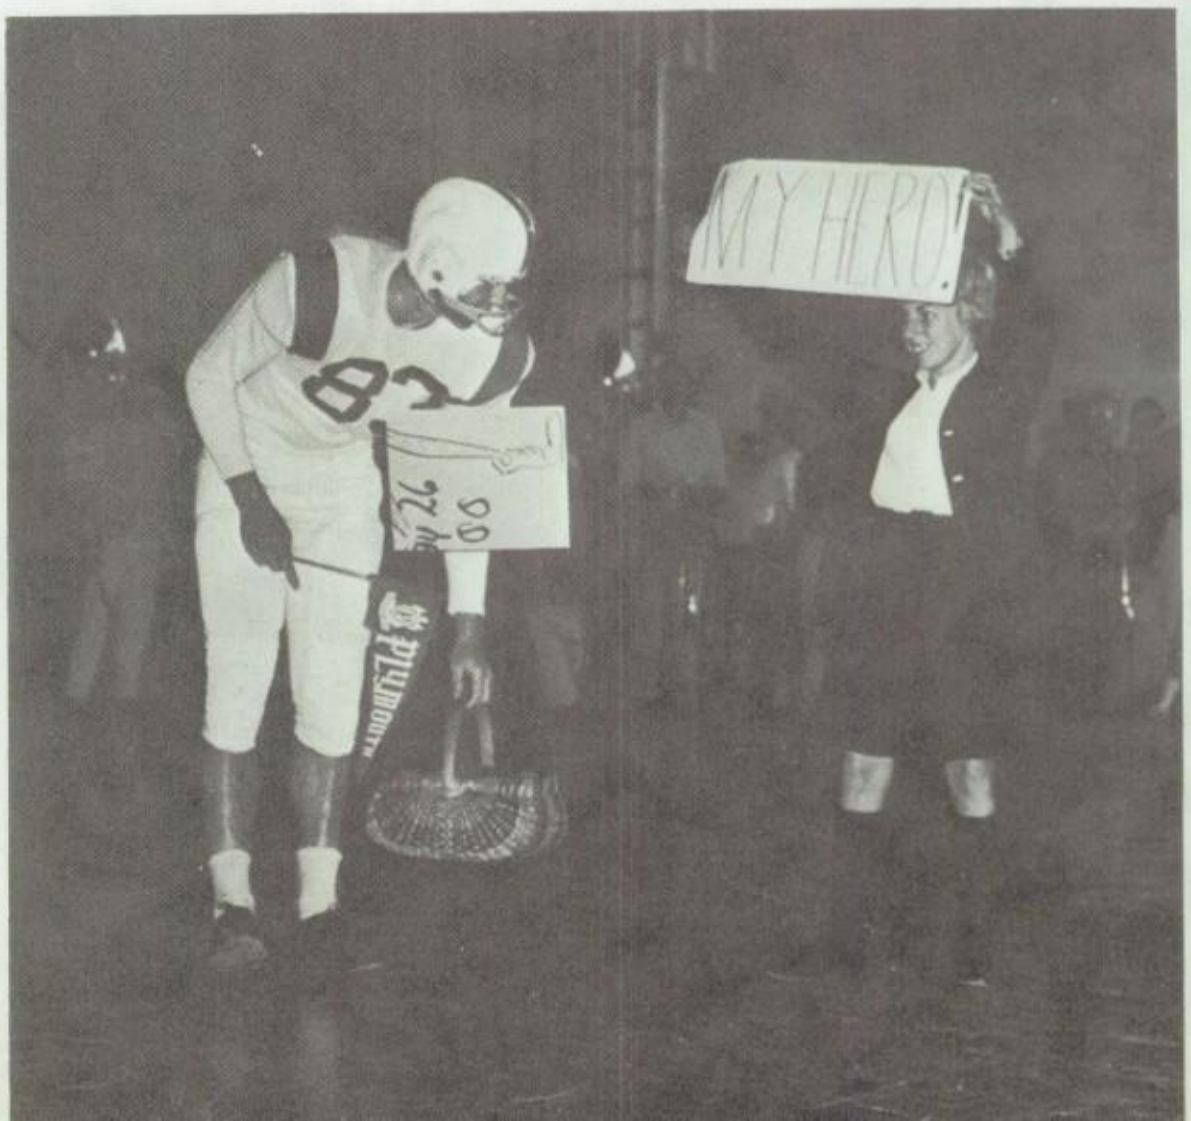
A gallant "Stretch" to Marilyn Wall's rescue at a Pep Assembly.

Sandy Popp, serene Sophmore entry.



Each of these girls was nominated by her class to represent them in the 1961 Homecoming: Michelle Bender, Carolyn Scott, Helen Otwell, and Mary Lou Argo.

Faith Raycroft, bubbly Junior choice.

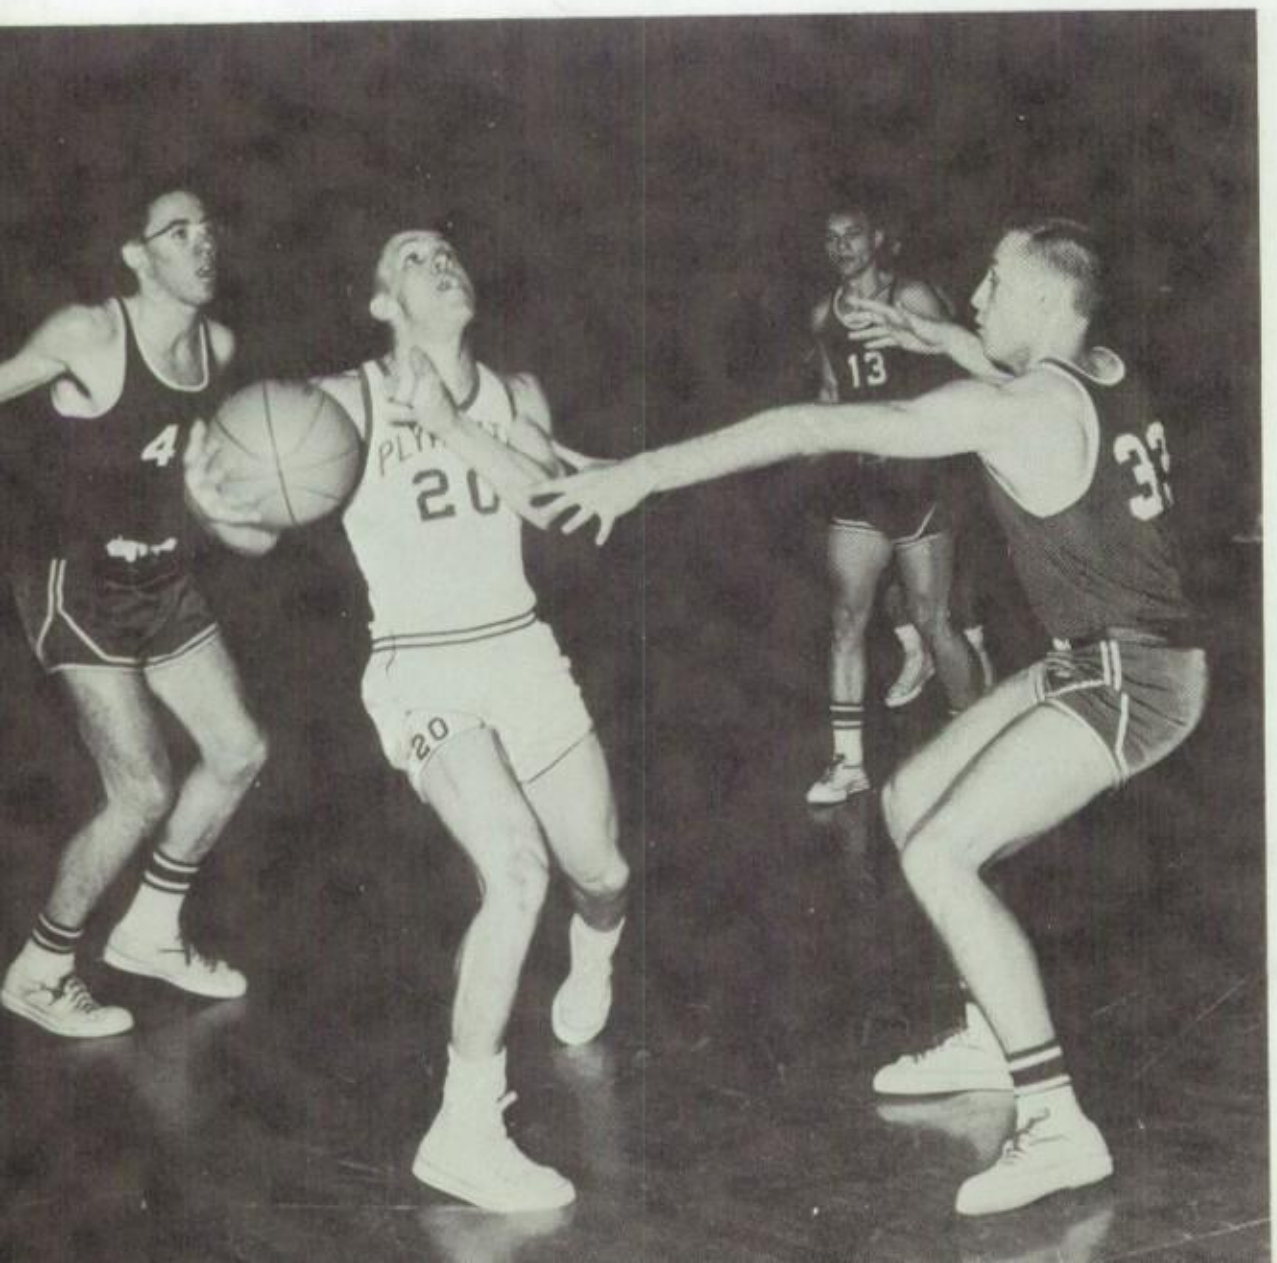
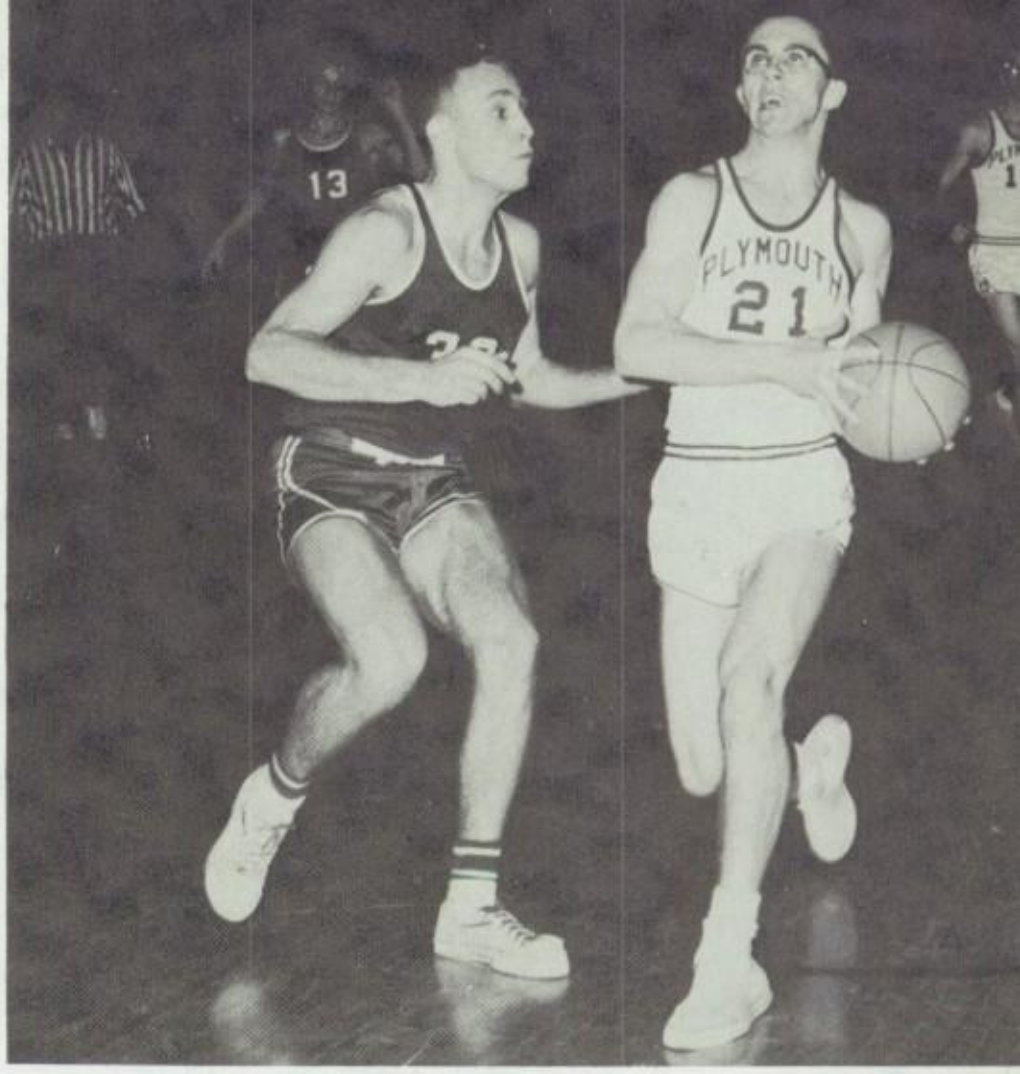
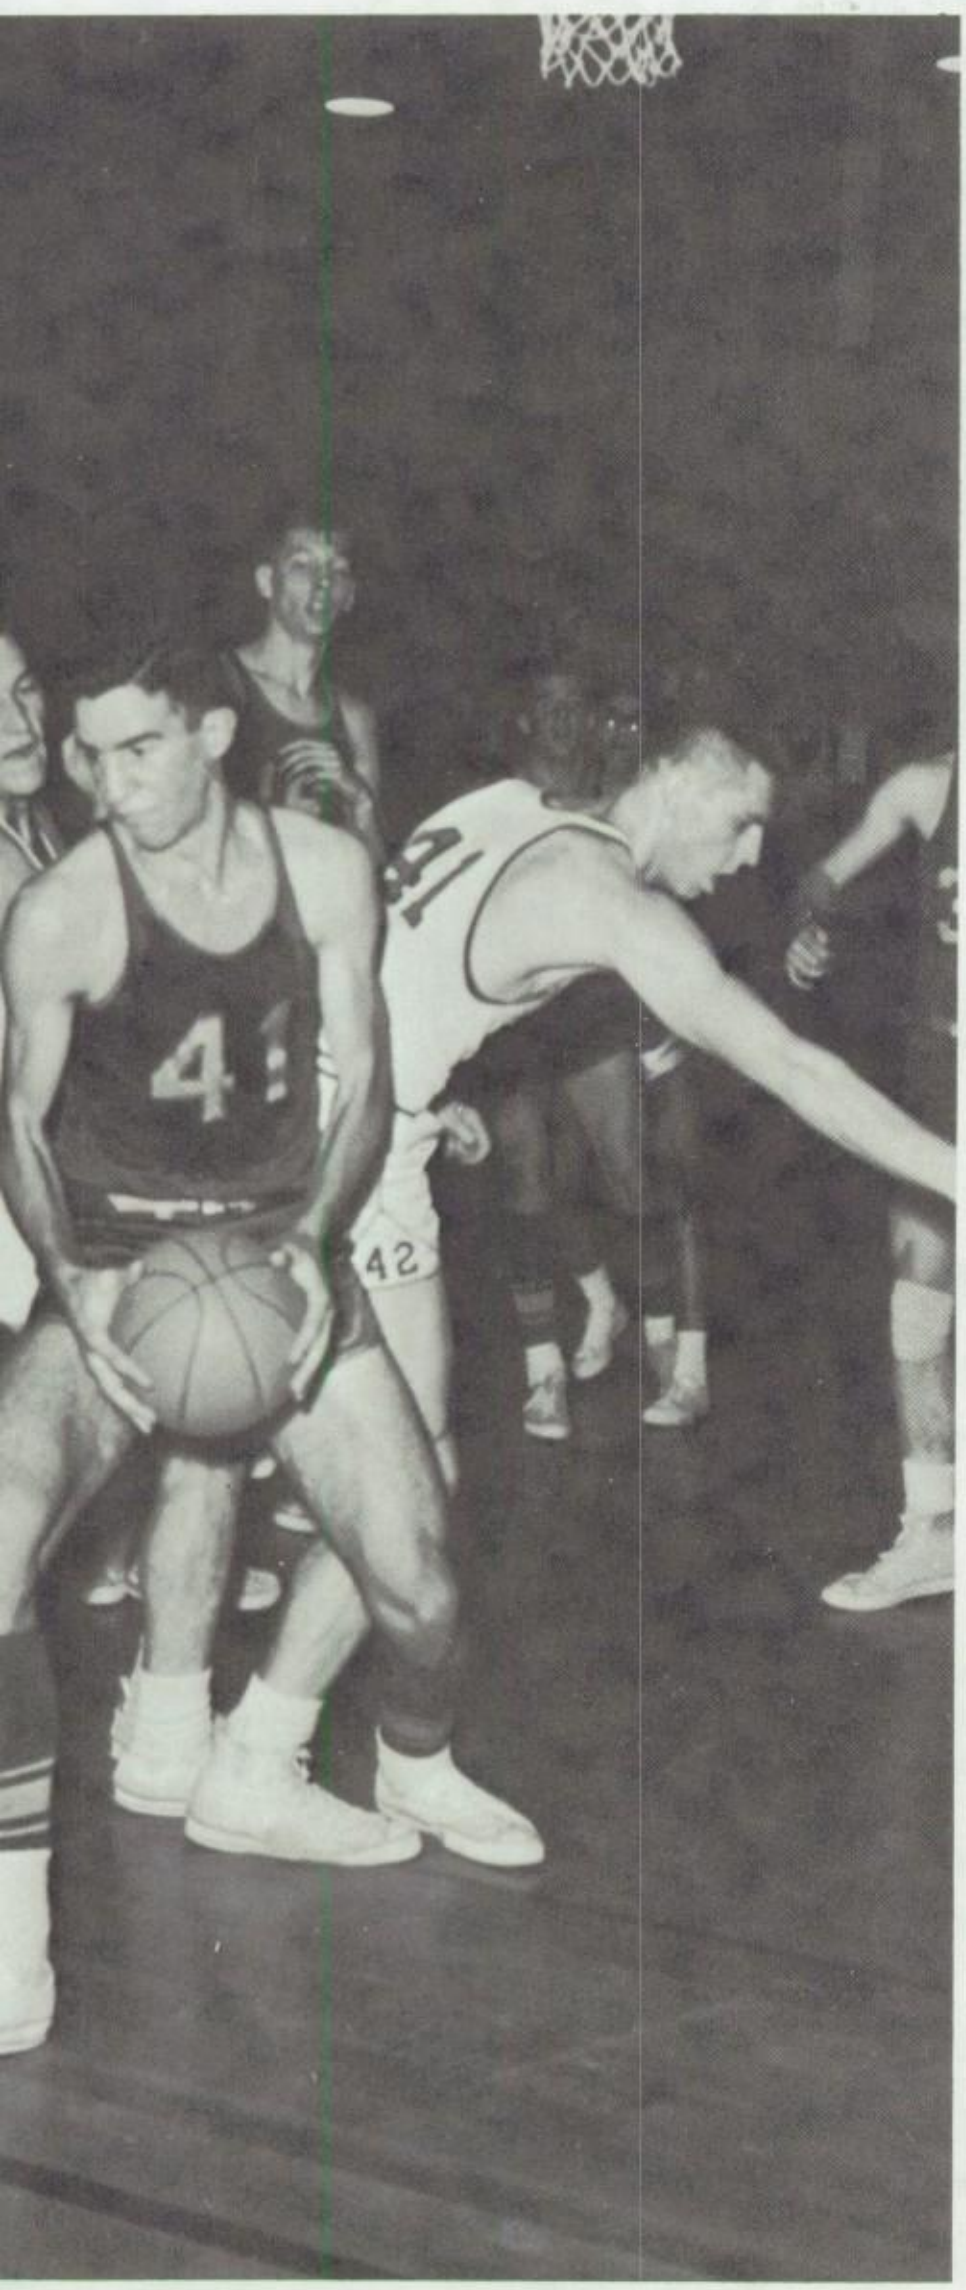
No matter how hard those fellows try, they aren't going to get the ball away from Dave Gothard.



The opponent reacts with surprise as growling and snarling Dick Schryer drives in for a Plymouth basket.





Dan Stremick mutters to himself as a rebound is snatched away, but he has nothing to worry about because Dave Gothard is coming in for the tackle.

Dave Gothard watches hopefully as "Stretch" Stremick arches the ball for the net.

With the pep of the J.V. Cheerleaders, the J.V. basketball team had no trouble winning.

Varsity and Junior

Plymouth High is riding high and so are these cheerleaders as the Rocks take the lead.

Enthusiasm, pep, and school spirit best describe Plymouth High School's Cheerleading Squad as they helped to bring our football team to a Suburban Championship Award this year. Not only do these energetic cheerleaders help bring encouragement to our team and its players, but they also promote school spirit, organize pep assemblies and enhance more students as well as adults to attend our athletic events throughout the year.

This year's captain during the football season was Karen Clyde. During the basketball season, Janet Fair was found leading the Varsity Squad through its cheers.

The Varsity and Junior Varsity obtained a different touch with new uniforms and also a few more new and original cheers, such as the Cha, Cha, Cha.

Enthusiam is one of the many virtues held by the girls on this year's Varsity Cheerleading Squad.

The Fine Arts

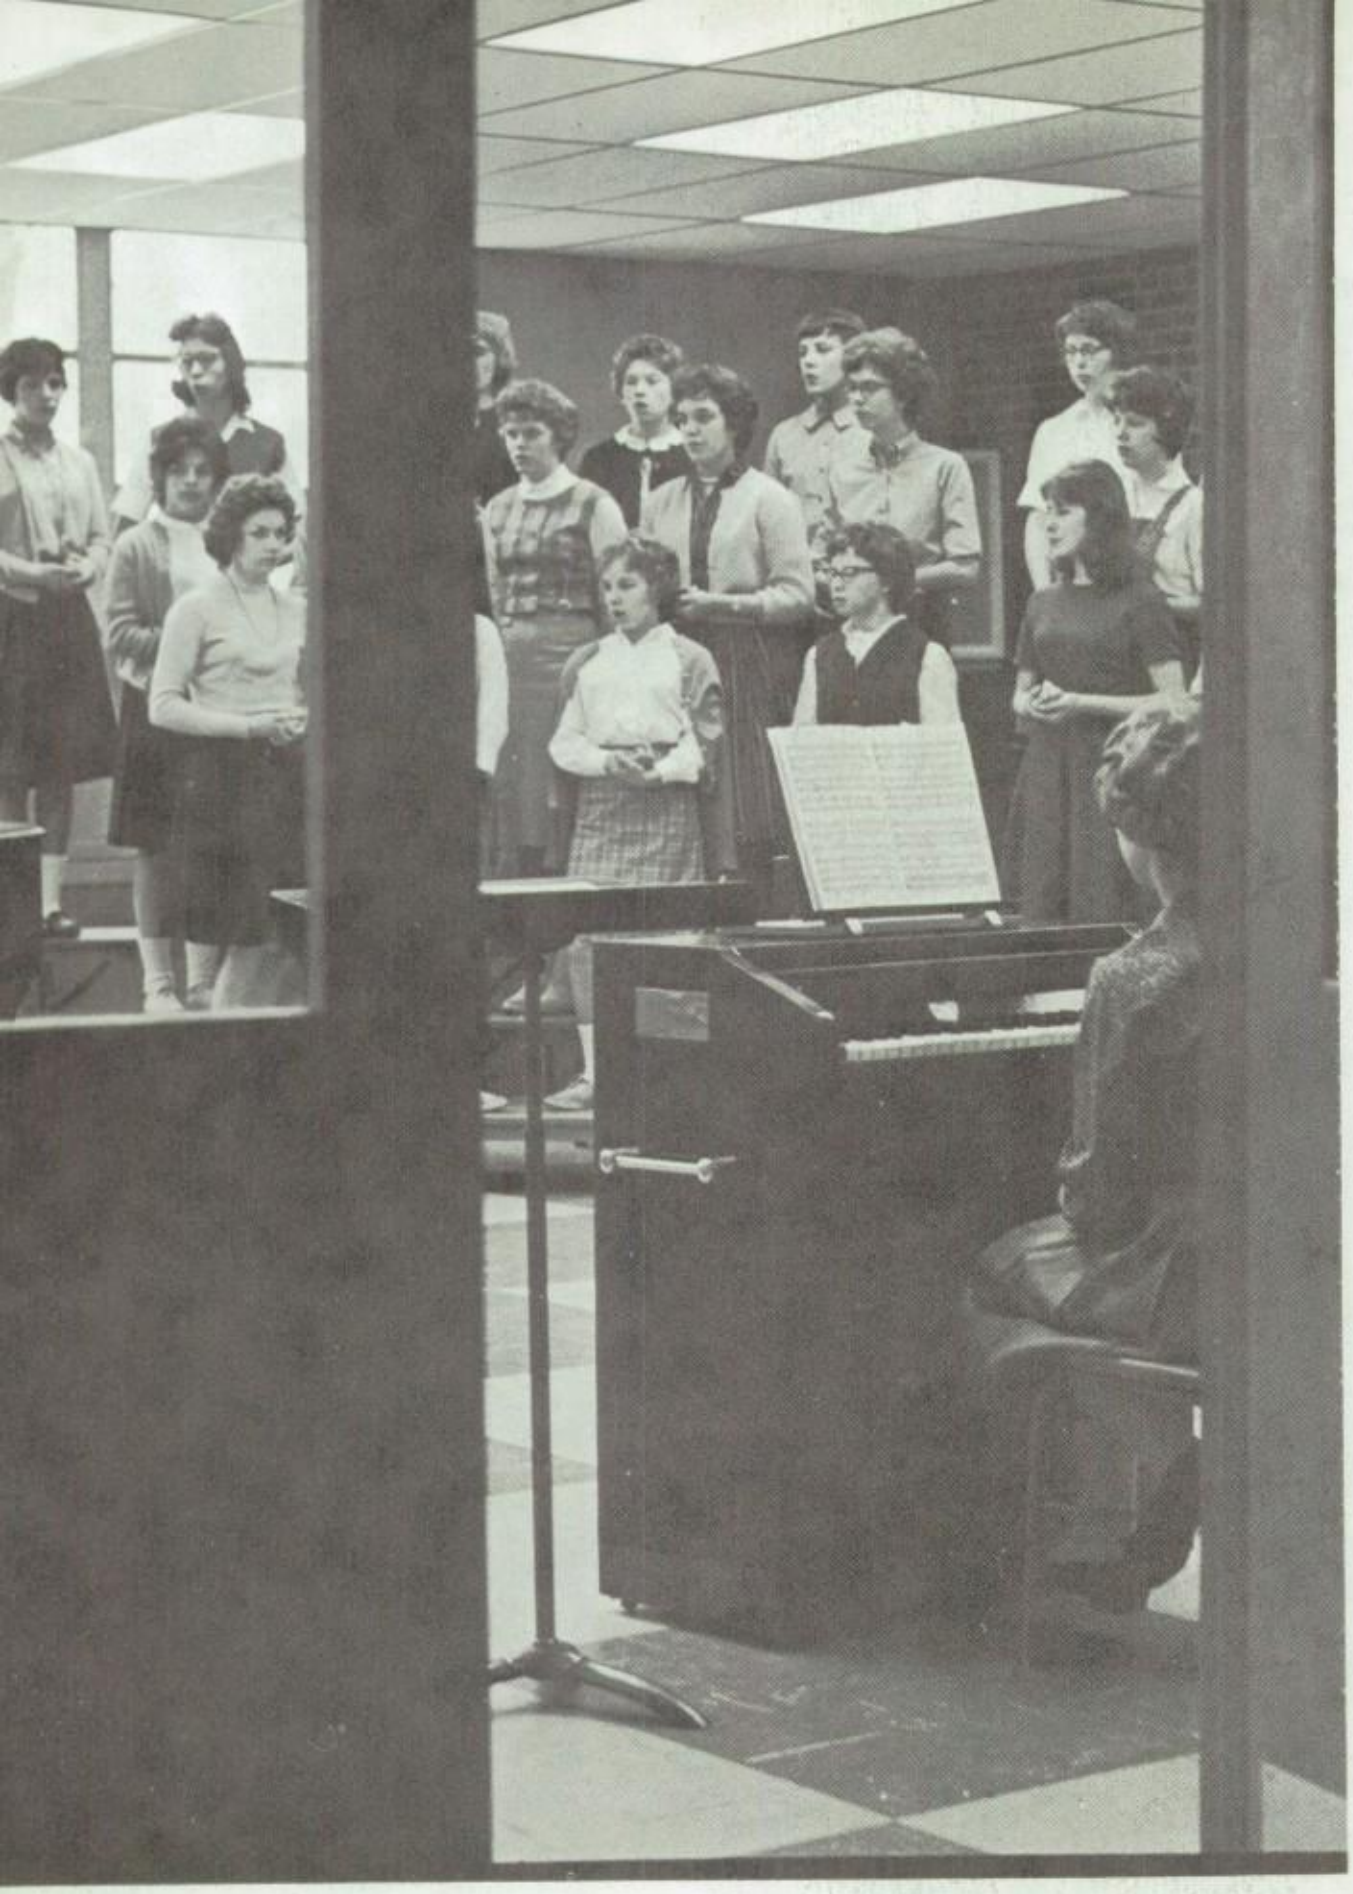
Members of the Girls' Glee Club are rehearsing for the annual Christmas Concert which is sponsored by the Music Department.



Combining artistic ability and imagination, Sandy Parmenter, Sally Sessions, and Ann Wietecha make posters for the coming dance.

"But Tony, it'll never work."
Portraying lovers in the All-School Play, "You Can't Take It With You," Sue Haws and Frosty Morgeson struggle for happiness against one great obstacle; her family.

Preparing for a concert requires perserverance and determination by the participants. Marilyn Wall, Linda Boon, Linda Norgrove, Phyllis Sanford, and other members of the Girls' Glee Club follow Mr. Nelson's expert direction as they put their hearts into the music.

Taking part in the All-School Play "You Can't Take It With You," Dick Illy, Hollis Haynes, Barry Corwin, and Sue Haws display their talents to the school and gain valuable dramatic experience.

Martha Wall finds her art work thoroughly engrossing.

To develop proficiency and skill on the flute, Dani Ray practices several hours each day.

Mr. Cook is giving Sally Ward some last minute help with Mr. De Pinna's (Earl Collins) make-up before the show.

Tony Kirby (Frosty Morgeson) has come to pick up Alice Sycamore (Sue Haws), his date; but Alice is not quite ready so Tony talks with Penny (Linda Wall), Mr. DePinna, Paul Sycamore (Steve Bullington) and Martin Vanderhof (Dick Illy) while Ed Charmichael (Win Schrader) plays the xylophone in the background.

Tony and Alice have just returned from their date and Tony is trying to convince Alice that she should marry him. He claims that it doesn't matter if their families are different, but she says that it does.
